Lively Election Adds Zest to Annual Civic Meeting

Ralph S. Dunne Re-elected President. Message Shows Much Accomplished

The annual meeting of the Narberth Civic Association held on Wednesday evening, April 22, in the Y. M. C. A., proved to be a most interesting and stimulating one.

The president, Mr. Ralph S. Dunne, read a statement of past accomplishments and plans for the coming year. The message was well-received by the members present, and can be read by those interested in the work of the organization as printed elsewhere in this issue of the paper.

Mr. Dunne followed this message by a more informal explanation of the association's activities, and everyone present marveled at the successful conclusion of the vigorous work done by the officers and directors in approaching the merchants of the town, as well as Borough Council, for the support of a new lighting system for Haverford avenue. The sum of $3,113.90 realized to defray expenses of this work, was the result of untiring effort on the part of the association's officers, and the generous contributions of the business men and Borough Council.

Visible approval could be noticed when the president showed the artist's drawing of the design of the borough signs the association is planning to erect at the various approaches to Narberth from its adjacent pikes. They are counting upon the support of Narberth's citizens and perhaps some of the other organizations to contribute for the erection of these signs, and already five of the nine necessary have been pledged for.

Another interesting feature the association is planning is the completion of a year book, containing a fund of valuable information for new residents of Narberth. The president showed the members a rough plan of the year book as conceived, and outlined some of the contents planned, informing them that these could either be sent out at the expense of the association or by firms or individuals interested in reaching newcomers to Narberth with such information.

The increasing interest in the association was shown when a number of citizens who attended stopped at the secretary's desk first to pay their dues and enroll as members.

A very lively election took place when two entirely different ballots were presented; one by the regular nominating committee of the association, and one at the recommendation of Mr. Edgar, who offered a full list of new directors and officers, including Mr. Harry A. Jacobs, a former director and ex-editor of Our Town, for president. The results of the election were as follows:

President, Ralph S. Dunne; first vice president, A. J. Loos; second vice president, Mrs. C. P. Fowler; third vice president, George A. Mahl; secretary and treasurer, Miss Jeanette E. Gillis. Directors to serve until 1927: Walter A. Fox, Robert Fellows Wood, Mrs. E. C. Batchelor, D. Walter Steckbeck, J. J. Cabrey and Mrs. Carroll Downes.

To serve until 1928: Robert J. Nash, Walton M. Wentz, Robert J. Edgar.

To serve until 1929: Colonel I. A. Miller, LeRoy A. King, A. E. Wohler.

Crowell to Replace Walzer as Manager

Manager-Elect Resigns as Harmony Move

Arrangements aplenty are now under way to have baseball in Narberth take the first place which belongs to it, as becomes a town of champions, and the advance news indicates that the local fans may well lick their chops in anticipation of the ripping repast in store for them. The team will line up pretty much the same as last season, with a few notable additions, and it is said that the playing field will be greatly improved as a result of the flow of funds, which has found its way to the Recreation Board's exchequer. It is planned to have the season break out in big league fashion, with the raising of the pennant in formal fashion, together with the parade, music and all the trappings which are part of such eventful occasions.

A switch has been made in managers, Bill Crowell taking the place of Fred Walzer, who steps down because he is impressed that there are some personal circumstances which would short circuit the possibilities of supreme success, and he does not believe in starting the team with a handicap if it can be avoided. His letter to Mr. Cabrey setting forth his position is as follows:

"It has come to my notice that my recent election as manager of the Narberth Baseball Club has not found favor with all the active elements in our local situation, and while I realize that it is not reasonable to expect a perfect unanimity in any feature of life, and particularly in baseball, where so many opportunities are afforded for grievance and misunderstandings, I feel in justice to myself and for the sake of the game itself, I should co-operate in seeking a greater degree of harmony, and I therefore submit my resignation, to take effect immediately.

"In doing so, I desire to express my great appreciation of the many kindly sentiments which have been made in my behalf by Narberth citizens and to all my friends I say that my primary interest is to advance our borough in every way possible, and in looking back over the years I feel that I may take a justifiable pride in the service which I have been permitted to render, having participated in securing eight championships, and bringing baseball in Narberth up to a more popular basis than it is in any other Main Line town. Fair-minded people will comprehend that such progress must be accompanied by an aggressive spirit and, in the nature of things, some unpleasantness is bound to arise, to the detriment of the game itself, if every individual persists in making his own interests more important than the main issue, and it is on this account that I step aside and decline to make a personal matter out of what is strictly a community proposition."

Mr. Cabrey's Reply.

"Your letter setting forth your position in connection with the present baseball situation is quite in line with what our borough would expect from a man of your excellent worth and capacity. Your position in Narberth has been well established as a result of many years of lustrous service, not only in baseball, but in various other forms of community endeavor, and to do as you have done in this instance bespeaks a magnanimity which is splendid to contemplate. The act of self-effacement calls for the best in any man and you have come to the rescue of an awkward situation in a manner which must commend you highly to those of our citizens who share in your sincere solicitation for the best interests of our town.

"There may have been other ways of dissolving the difficulty, but you have selected that procedure which puts the interests of the community first and foremost, disregarding your personal claims and desires altogether, and making short-shrift of a rather unpleasant state of affairs. Other men might have insisted on a prolonged discussion of

BUYS ARDMORE NEWSPAPER

Announcement was made this week of the sale of the Main Liner, Ardmore weekly newspaper, to Philip Atlee Livingston, of Narberth.

The Main Liner, which has a circulation throughout Lower Merion Township, was founded and published by Louis R. Winter, Jr. The new owner is also editor and publisher of Our Town and publisher and owner of the News of Bala-Cynwyd.

The enlarged staff now formed to operate the three papers will permit of a more complete reporting system for Our Town, and, in consequence, a still better paper for Narberth readers.

LIBRARY ASSOCIATION

Governing Body for Library Recently Formed.

A new organization was formed at a recent public meeting in the lobby of the Y. M. C. A. building. It is called the "Narberth Community Library Association" and will in the future be responsible for the Narberth Community Library which has previously been a department of the Women's Community Club. At the meeting by-laws were adopted and the following trustees were elected: T. C. Trotter, Jr., E. A. Muschamp, Miss Anna McKeag, Mrs. E. C. Drew, Mrs. Horace Moore, Mrs. Joseph Hongler, Mrs. H. A. Jacobs, Mrs. E. A. Muschamp and Mrs. R. F. Wood.

The by-laws provide that if appropriations for the library should be made by the Borough Council and by the school board, as is done by the commissioners and the School Board of Lower Merion Township for the several libraries in their jurisdiction, trustees shall be elected by those public bodies to represent them on the Library Board of Trustees.

The Library Board of Trustees held their first meeting on the evening of the 16th and elected the following officers: President, Miss Anna McKeag; vice president, Mr. E. A. Muschamp; secretary, Mrs. Horace Moore; treasurer, Mr. T. C. Trotter, Jr. The trustees also appointed Mrs. Elizabeth K. Wood to be librarian for the ensuing year, and adopted the following resolution in reference to that office:

"Resolved; that a librarian shall be elected by the trustees with complete and full authority to manage the purchase, distribution and elimination of all books for the Narberth Community Library and to engage, direct and dismiss such assistants as may be necessary thereto, subject to the provision that the Board of Trustees reserves to itself the supervision and direction of all expenditures, and subject to any further rules or restrictions which this board may at any later time enact."

School Garden Competition.

The Ambler School of Horticulture has generously drawn up plans for planting a lot 110x125 feet. The competition is open to all High School and Junior High students with three cash prizes. Haverford township, Lower Merion and Narberth may compete.

An arrangement of cultivated flowers by children from 9 to 12 years with prizes is another class. Students wishing to compete can ask their drawing teacher for specifications. Plans will be exhibited and judged at the Little Garden Day Sale, Memorial Building, Bryn Mawr, May 18. The committee of the Little Garden Sale hopes this competition will stimulate interest in planting yards and gardens, thus helping to beautify the community. Inexpensive flower and vegetable plants will be on sale.

Married in New York.

The marriage of Miss Julia P. Tsolainos, of Brooklyn, to Mr. Jason Chios, of Narberth, one of the partners in the Arcadia Restaurant, took place at the Hotel Martinique, New York, last Monday. The couple will reside in Narberth.

Expresses Thanks.

The family of Horace I. McConnell have expressed their gratitude to the neighbors and friends who rendered them assistance at the time of the fire at their home on Merion avenue last week. Thanks were also expressed for the prompt and efficient work of the Narberth Fire Department.

Narberth All Set to Enjoy Klever Klassy Karnival

Women Complete Preparation for Two-Day Event at Y. M. C. A. Next Week

To those who know, the "Spring Karnival," of the Women's Community Club means two days of fun and festivity. To those who have not participated in the two former Karnivals, a word of advice, "Don't miss the third event." The days are Friday and Saturday, May 1 and 2, from 2 P. M. till midnight. You may buy anything from a shoestring to a can opener at very reasonable prices.

There will be lots of things to amuse the kiddies while you are buying your Sunday groceries and your Monday laundry needs. Little Miss Muffet will be on hand with numerous pockets for the children to hunt through. Captain Kidd will supply other surprises and after that they may visit the wishing well. You need not be thirsty long for there will be punch, lemonade and soft drinks for sale, and if you have a "sweet tooth" your palate may be appeased at the kandy kounter where there will be homemade and other good candies. Don't bother to bake a cake at home, buy one at the homemade cake booth.

In case you expect a package by mail visit the parcel post booth, which is to be in charge of the wide-awake Juniors. Buy your gifts at the fancy goods table; luncheon and card table sets, candle shades, guest towels, vases, dainty underwear and silk stockings. The very latest style aprons and house dresses, made by Club members, will be ready for you at the household booths, as will all kinds of kitchen needs. The Club will aid disabled soldiers and sailors and blind workers and prisoners by selling their handiwork on commission.

Flower lovers will find plants both annual and perennial at the flower booth, and may chat with a landscape artist about laying out their gardens. She will also attend to having flower boxes filled at a reasonable rate.

From 9 to 12 there will be dancing in the regular Club room at a moderate admission.

One of the best features of the Karnival will be the cafeteria suppers, served both days from 5.30 to 7 P. M., platters from 50 cents up. You may select from the following menus:

Friday—(1), roast beef, scalloped potatoes, string beans, rolls and butter.

(2), fish cakes, baked beans, stewed tomatoes, rolls and butter. Extra, coffee, milk, ice cream, cake and salads.

Saturday—baked ham, macaroni and cheese, string beans, rolls and butter. Extras as on Friday. Platters 50 cents, beverages, salads and dessert extra.

The proceeds of the Karnival are to enlarge the building fund, which is slowly but surely growing.

JUNIOR C. C.

Aid in Karnival Next Friday and Saturday.

The regular meeting of the Junior Community Club was held at the Y. M. C. A. on April 21.

The big subject for discussion was the Karnival to be given by the Seniors May 1 and 2. Come out and see the attractive booth of the Junior Club. Buy a parcel post package from most any place in the United States. And that isn't all. There will be an added attraction. So come around to the Karnival and see what it is.

The girls are urged to get their parcel post package in by next Tuesday. Volunteers are wanted to come to the Y. M. C. A. next Tuesday night at 7.30 to help make the decorations for the booth.

There will be a meeting of Junior Clubs next Monday night, April 27, at the Philomusian Club, Thirty-ninth and Walnut streets, at 7.30. They asked our club to contribute toward the entertainment. We decided to repeat the "Honest and Truly" chorus from the recent play. So all girls who were in the chorus are asked to go along next Monday night. We would like to have the club well represented at this meeting.

Kite Contest.

On Saturday afternoon, April 18, a large number of boys from different Main Line Schools participated in a unique kite flying contest at Haverford College Athletic Field. The six events in which prizes were awarded were as follows: First—highest flyer in five minutes, won by Ted Harris; second, Stewart La Rue; third, William Young. Second event—the 120-yard dash, won by Matthew McConnell; second, John Delleveigne, and third, Stewart La Rue. The smallest boy flying a kite was Lawrence Tingle; with Connie Wickham a close second. The tallest flying a kite was Erin Tingle, with Thomas Ottey second. Prizes for the best homemade kites were: First, Stewart La Rue, and second, James Vance. The winner of the last event, the highest flyer of the afternoon, was John Pennypacker; second, Thomas Ottey, and third, Stewart La Rue. The prizes awarded to the boys were the big monoplane kite invented by blind Perry Hale, of Yale, who spoke recently in several of the schools.

Mrs. Julia S. Morgan, of Amherst, Mass., is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Charles H. Shaw.

REHEARSALS SOON

Of Interest to Male Singers on Main Line.

On Monday evening, April 27, at 8 o'clock sharp, the large male chorus now organizing to sing at the Fourth Annual Outdoor Main Line Musical Festival will hold its first rehearsal at Masonic Hall, Ardmore. Application for membership in this chorus can be made to Joseph McGarrity, 226 Forrest avenue, Narberth; Russell A. Cuthbert, Merion (Merion 614-R), or to the musical director, Clarence C. Nice, just previous to the rehearsal on Monday evening, April 27. It is not necessary to introduce the leader, Clarence C. Nice. He is well known in Philadelphia and a conductor of the San Carlo Opera Company.

There will be about five or six rehearsals, held on Monday evenings, in Ardmore. Last year this chorus totalled about 100 male voices, but the interest grows each year and at the concert in June indications now are that there will be at least 200 voices. There is no entrance fee nor expense attached to membership in this chorus, but prompt and regular attendance at rehearsals will be insisted upon.

Fifty members of the Philadelphia Orchestra will accompany the chorus as they have in the past. The artists this year will be Ruth St. Denis and Ted Shawn, dancers of world renown; Anna Roselle, formerly prima donna of Metropolitan Opera Company and now leading dramatic soprano of the San Carlo Opera Company, and Ciro De Ritis, baritone of the Chicago Civic Opera Company.

One of the reasons for the great success of the Main Line music festival, held annually, is the presentation of the best artists the country can offer. The lure of being out-of-doors for a program of this character is also accountable for the large crowds that always attend and over-sell the boxes. This music festival is given in aid of the children's house of the Bryn Mawr Hospital. The committee in charge co-operating with Mr. Nice are: Mrs. Charles Sinnickson, chairman; Miss Ann Vauclain, Mrs. George B. Evans, Mrs. King Wainwright, Mrs. Edward Shippen Willing, Miss Gertrude Ely, Miss Adele Morris, Mrs. Archibald Barclay and Mrs. William A. Seiber.

Male singers make application at once and be at Masonic Hall, Ardmore, Monday, April 27, at 8

FORMER RESIDENT DIES

Mrs. C. Anderson Warner Dies at Age of 87.

Mrs. Anna C. Warner, wife of the late C. Anderson Warner, passed to rest at her home in Brookline, Pa., on Thursday afternoon, April 16, after an illness of several months due mainly to the infirmities of advanced age.

Mrs. Warner, the daughter of Norris Hansell, Sr., was one of Ardmore's oldest residents. She was born on June 30, 1838, in the Hansell homestead on Montgomery avenue, adjacent to Narberth, then known as Libertyville, Lower Merion.

She married Mr. Warner in 1889, 10 years after the death of her sister Margaret, who was Mr. Warner's former wife, and making her home in the Warner homestead on East Lancaster pike in Ardmore till 1920 when it was sold and the house demolished. Mr. Warner, it will be remembered, died in 1911.

Mrs. Warner was a faithful member of Old Saint Paul's Lutheran Church, in Ardmore, and at time of her death was the oldest living member of the congregation.

The funeral service which was largely attended, was conducted by her pastor, Reverend Albert C. Kanzinger, on Monday afternoon, April 20, from the home of her daughter, Mrs. Emily Warner Guss, where she has resided since leaving Ardmore five years ago.

She is survived by Mr. Warner's three children, Emily, Charles and Robley, also her brother, Norris Hansell, of Oakmont.

Interment was made in the family plot in the Lutheran Cemetery at Ardmore, Pa.

Aids in Boys' Week.

Fred Fletcher Patten, son of Postmaster F. C. Patten, will participate in the opening of the Boys' Week ceremonies at the Baptist Temple tomorrow morning, when he will render violin selections.

In New York.

Dr. and Mrs. Romaine C. Hoffman spent last week-end visiting in New York City.

DAYLIGHT SAVING

Will Go Into Effect Sunday Morning at 2 O'clock.

Daylight saving time will begin next Sunday morning at 2 o'clock. New railroad schedules, necessitated by daylight saving, will be effective then. The mass of workers will be affected for the first time on Monday morning.

The banks and the Post Office will open and close an hour earlier than usual.

Public clocks will not be changed and many business houses also will not change their timepieces, but will open an hour earlier than before.

So far Governor Pinchot has failed to sign or disapprove the Grimes Anti-Daylight Saving bill. This measure provides a penalty for the turning forward of official clocks or those publicly exhibited for the purpose of providing the time for the general public. It also prohibits the use of anything except standard time in the making of contracts or in other transactions of a legal nature.

Those close to the Governor believe he will veto the bill, on the ground that it would be a possible source of annoyance and persecution to persons whose publicly exhibited clocks got out of order. Under the law, however, he has thirty days from the final adjournment of the Legislature in which to act on the measure.

Bake Sale.

A bake sale of home-made cakes and pies will be held at Cook's, Haverford avenue, on Saturday morning, May 2. Sale conducted by Ladies' Aid Society of Holy Trinity Lutheran Church, starts at 9.30.

Roll of Honor.

This week's subscribers to the Boy Scout Fund are: John P. Miller, C. M. Little, W. G. Crowell, E. K. Goodwin and Annie E. Kerbaugh.

Ladies' Aid.

The Ladies' Aid Society of Holy Trinity Lutheran Church will meet at the home of Mrs. P. B. Krout, 520 Essex avenue, on Wednesday evening, April 29, at 8 o'clock. All the ladies of the church are invited.

IT LOOKS HOPEFUL

Wednesday night President
Dunne, of the Civic Association,
went to the Y. M. C. A. Building with the expectation of delivering his annual address to six persons,
the usual attendance. Instead there were half a hundred.

The Nominating Committee arrived fully prepared to "wish" the job of director on a few long-suffering citizens. Instead there was a complete opposition ticket in the field. And the opposition party was a strong one, made up largely of the "Old Guard" who felt that the association was deviating a bit from the ideas of the founders.

Thus, instead of yawns there was much doing. Tellers worked feverishly; two brothers, members of the regular party, rushed breathlessly upstairs in answer to either an
S. O. S. call or some intuition.
There was a close election.

All that is more than hopeful. It shows that President Ralph S.
Dunne has resurrected the association and made it live. It shows interest, and after all that is what makes for community success.

The accomplishments of the past year, largely the result of Mr.
Dunne's own efforts were praised by all present. The future plans were approved. The election, instead of being a formality was an event.
Certainly it looks hopeful.

Receiving Congratulations.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph "Cy" Perkins are receiving congratulations on the nue.

ROSES

It matters not what goal you seek,
Its secret here reposes.
You've got to dig from week to week,
To get Results or Roses.

—EDGAR A. GUEST.

There are two ways of growing roses. One is to plant them in rose beds and care for them faithfully
and the other way is to plant them
in a rose cemetery and kill them with neglect.

If we insist on planting roses we must make up our minds that we are going into it thoroughly, that we are investing money—not just spending it. The dividend coupons are there and they are well worth clipping.

This all, of course, applies to the hybrid-tea or all-summer bloomers,
as the hybrid-perpetual or June bloomers are much easier to care for and the climbers and pillars take care of themselves, except for pruning.

A hybrid-tea rose can use only about 15 inches of soil, but in planting the bush it is necessary to dig a full 24 inches in order to provide for sub-soil drainage. Broken stone, pieces of bricks, broken flower pots or any such material to a depth of six inches and then a layer of grass sod, inverted, and we are ready for the soil.

Full sun of course is a necessity and having this in mind we must prepare a soil mixture that will hold moisture and at the same time provide food for our roses. Clay and well-rotted cow manure is ideal, if they are both well broken up and well mixed together our roses should thrive, with a dressing from time to time of fine ground bone. Do not use fresh manure of any kind near the root of roses or any other plant
if you want it to live. Well-rotted manure means well-rotted manure.

Each root wants its own soil,
don't pack the roots in a ball, spread them out. See that the union of the green stem with the brown root-stock is at least two inches below
the level of the ground and fill in half way and wet plant down solid.
Now fill in with dry soil and apply a light mulch of grass cuttings, peat moss or prepared tobacco, just enough to shade the soil and keep it moist.

Having said all this we might add that we very much prefer to buy field grown roses and plant them in November. Budded roses only, not on their own roots.

Just two weeks ago we removed the half bushel peach baskets that protected our roses last winter and this spring and leveled down the six inch hills of soil from the old canes, these canes were cut down to two and three eyes, depending on the strength of the cane and the location of the eyes and then we ordered some spraying liquid to prevent mildew and black spot and some nicotine for the aphids.

If you won't spray or powder
your roses to keep them healthy,
don't plant them.

According to the 1924 referendum of the American Rose Society,
the 12 most favored hybrid-tea roses
in this State are:

Radiance, Ophelia, Duchess of Wellington, Red Radiance, Mrs.
Aaron Ward, Columbia, Lady Alice
Stanley, Mme. Butterfly, Mme.
Edouard Herriot, Los Angeles, Kil-larnay and Gruss an Teplitz. (Note
the latter needs plenty of room.)

Please note no white rose was named. Frau Karl Druschki while very popular is a hybrid perpetual,
but we have Kaiserin Augusta
Victoria of old and Mrs. H. R.
Darlington and Edel among the newer ones.

Have your Gladioli ready for early May planting and your Dahlias ready for late May planting.

LOCAL AND LEAGUE
BASEBALL ORGANIZED

the matter, with the result that the last estate would be worse than the first, and your effective handling of the case well merits our applause as a gracious and handsome act. You have proved that you do indeed believe in the town in which you live."

Fred Walzer has been identified with baseball for Narberth for many years, both as player and manager, and he was influential in bringing the Main Line League into existence.
Quite a few borough residents who are hovering on the horizon of middle life played under his direction and the records credit him with eight pennants during his career as manager. Mr. Walzer is one of the pioneer residents of Narberth and he has always played an active part in Montgomery county politics. He has held several State positions and at the present time is a justice of the Peace. He has a wide field of influence and is personally known to probably every resident of the town.

Wilmer G. Crowell, the new manager, is also a resident of Nar-berth and is probably the foremost football official in America. He is a graduate of Swarthmore and has a wide experience in college athletics, having acted as football coach
for George Washington University,
West Philadelphia High School,
Central Manual Training School
and other institutions. In his school days he was regarded as one of the most skillful players of his time and was selected as a first choice for the All-American team. At present he is an officer of the National Collegiate Association and of the National Association of Football Officials. He was manager of the Narberth Baseball Club in 1922 and 1923, landing the team in first place on both occasions.

Six-Club League.

Six clubs were given franchises
in the Main Line League at an organizing meeting held in Narberth Monday evening. Officers and members of the Executive Board for the 1925 season were also elected.

The clubs given franchises were Bala-Cynwyd, Ardmore, Narberth, Paoli, Berwyn and Ashland. Harry Mosteller, of Ardmore, succeeded Bod Edgar, of Narberth, as president. Mr. Edgar, after three years as head of the league, announced that he did not seek re-election.

The other officers selected were:
First vice president, Robert Lindsay, Bala-Cynwyd; second vice president, George M. Isinger, Paoli;
third vice president, Fred N. Goas, Ashland; treasurer, Charles Har-
nden, Narberth, and secretary, Phineas Pilateus Pyott, Berwyn.
These men are all members of the Executive Board, which is the final authority on league matters. Each club is given one representative on the board.

The meeting in Narberth put the finish to rumors and hopes that the Main Line League would be enlarged to an eight-club circuit this year instead of remaining a six-club affair as in the past. Gladwyne, a member of Bala-Cynwyd last year, had declared its intention of entering a club of its own this season, but after attending the first two preliminary meetings held in Narberth
early in the month was not on hand Monday to make formal application for a franchise.

Wayne, one of the old-timers,
was likewise absent after attending the preliminary conferences. Neither community will probably be a member of the league this year.

Of the teams granted franchises
only three, Paoli, Narberth and Ardmore, were members of last year's league. Ardmore, led by Joe Cullinan, is composed largely of the group that played under the banners
of Oakmont last season.

Ashland is a new entry entirely,
and the other two, Bala-Cynwyd and Berwyn, are practically new inasmuch as they are backed by new groups this year. Bala-Cynwyd has new backing and Berwyn is drawing its players from Doyle's Nurseries.

One new feature of the league
this season will be twilight games.
These will be played on Wednesday evenings and will mean the addition of five games each half to the usual 10-game schedule of the clubs.

Considerable discussion arose when twilight games were brought up. Ashland and Berwyn protested against them, declaring that playing conditions on their respective home fields made evening games almost impossible and highly undesirable.
These two were won over, however,
after they had been assured that they might change their twilight games to the fields of rival clubs and still be given the larger part of the "gate." All the clubs then went on record in favor of the twilight affairs.

Narberth, Pa.

Attention, Mr. Dunne

Gentlemen:—

In the past few weeks I have been besieged by circulars and letters from numerous coal dealers, who, it seems, would like to give me better coal and better service than you are giving me.

This has all brought to my mind the fact that during the past two winters—since I have been dealing with you—I have not had a single clinker in my furnace—the ashes are always fine and without waste—the house has been warm and comfortable—the fire has not gone out once.

In other words, I am well satisfied with your coal and your service.

I suppose you, like every other business concern, get kicks now and then. Therefore I am glad to pass on this little praise, for I think it is well deserved.

Very truly yours,

KARL H. ROGERS.

GROCERIES—MEAT—VEGETABLES

Cash Only—No Delivery

Grocers these days have to think, and think hard.
There's more to this job than placing orders and waiting on customers. We don't play checkers in the back of the store and "guess" the rest of the time. Our way of doing things takes all "guess" out of business.

Sometimes in our thinking we think ourselves in the customers' place and try to realize their thoughts while we serve them. Try to do for them as we would like to have done for us if we were buying the necessities of a good dinner for the family.

DAD'S SEVERAL NAMES

Depends on Family's Individual and Social Characteristics.

If he is wealthy and prominent and you stand in awe of him, call him "Father," says Capper's Weekly. If he sits in his shirt sleeves and suspenders at ball games and picnics, call him "Pop." If he tills the land or teaches Sunday school, call him "Pa."

If he wheels the baby carriage and carries bundles meekly, call him "Papa," with the accent on the first syllable. If he belongs to a library circle and writes cultured papers or is a reformer in politics and forgets to vote, call him "Papa," with the accent on the last syllable.

If, however, he makes a pal of you when you're good, and is too wise to let you pull the wool over his loving eyes when you're not; if, moreover, you're sure no other fellow you know has quite so fine a father, you may call him "Dad"—but not otherwise.

Wrong Name.

Roy Simpson, Negro laborer, was putting in his first day with a construction gang whose foreman was known for getting the maximum amount of labor out of his men. Simpson was helping in the task of moving the right-of-way, and all day long he carried heavy timbers and ties until at the close of the day he was completely tired out. Came quitting time. Before he went he approached the boss and said:

"Mister, you sure you got me down on the payroll?"

The foreman looked over the list of names he held. "Yes," he said, finally, "here you are—Simpson—Roy Simpson. That's right, isn't it?"

"Yaas suh, boss," said the Negro, "dass right. I thought mebbe you had me down as Samson."

BOOKS AND BOOK REVIEWS

The three Gibbs brothers, Sir Philip Gibbs, A. Hamilton Gibbs and the third member of the trio who writes under the nom de plume of "Cosmo Hamilton," are three author-brothers whose books are to be found on the shelves of the Community Library. Sir Philip Gibbs is perhaps best known. At the outbreak of the World War he was sent to the front with the British troops and remained as official war correspondent until the fighting was over. For this service he was knighted. Sir Philip has lectured in Philadelphia since the war. Most of his recent books are in this library, this month's addition being his newest novel, "The Reckless Lady."

"Cosmo Hamilton," though not quite as well known, has achieved fame as both a novelist and a playwright. This month his latest novel, "Paradise," made its appearance at the library. Space allows us to review only one novel by the Gibbs family, so "Soundings" has been selected because it is the work of the youngest of the three, A. Hamilton Gibbs, and only his second book.

"Soundings" is the story of a young English girl left motherless at birth and brought up by her father. The small town in which she lived gave her no insight into life, and when she reached the age of 18 and began to "sound" the depths of human feelings, her father sent her on a years' trip through Europe. The story is of her friends and experiences and what she wanted and what she got from life.

"God's Step-Children," by Sarah G. Millin, is an absorbing story of the life and descendants of one, the Rev. Andrew Flood, who goes into South Africa to convert the Hottentots. Many questions he has to answer as to how God looks upon the black man, and just why some skins are white while others are black. The Rev. Andrew's great sacrifice and the effect upon generations that follow him make a pathetic and tragic story.

"The Loring Mystery" is the latest story from the pen of Jeffery Farnol. As the title indicates, it is the sort of tale to keep one guessing. Guess who strangled the young man thought to be the heir to the Loring Estates? Guess who killed Sir Nevil Loring and where the silver dagger came from? Make friends with Jasper Shrig, the detective, and follow him through dark and ghostly woods and into secret chambers; hold your breath as Pal David holds Shrig over the foul and gruesome well and finds a clue. And don't forget there is a gorgeous red-haired girl who rather appeals to young David. It is altogether thrilling.

"The Judgment of Paris," by Carleton Kemp Allen, will both entertain and amuse its readers. It is the story of a bachelor just past his fortieth birthday, who has had bequeathed to him a very comfortable fortune. "Matchmaking mammas" immediately dog his footsteps and flatter him into such foolishness that he finds himself engaged to two girls at once. But even that is overcome and all ends well.

REA GIVES HIGH PRAISE
TO ZONING ORDINANCE

Cement Manager Also Declares Experts Find It One of the Best.

High approval of the proposed Lower Merion Township Zoning ordinance has been expressed by Samuel Rea, president of the Pennsylvania and by L. N. Whitcraft, district manager of the Portland Cement Association. Letters from them praising the draft were received by the Township Commission at its meeting held last week in Ardmore.

"This commission (the Zoning Commission) has done a fine piece of work," declares Mr. Rea in his communication. The code has been referred to municipal experts at Harrisburg as one of the best they have seen, Mr. Whitcraft informed the Commissioners.

"I have just had an opportunity of reading the preliminary draft of the Zoning ordinance and Enabling Act for Lower Merion township, Montgomery county, Pa., and I am impressed with the fact that this Commission has done a fine piece of work for the township which ought to meet with universal approval. They seem to have been considerate of all interests and provided for the future in a way that, generally speaking, ought to be satisfactory. I am not entirely familiar with all of the details, and perhaps some modifications may seem desirable, but none has occurred to me and I trust, therefore, that the report will meet with the approval of the Township Commissioners in the first instance, which, I take it, is necessary before it can go to a referendum."

"We have had come to this office from time to time very favorable comments regarding the excellence of the present Lower Merion Township Code," Mr. Whitcraft wrote, "especially in regard to the completeness and ideal arrangement of the index and to the clarity of the definitions. Very recently we were advised by the correspondent of an Eastern Pennsylvania borough, who was interested in making up a code, that the Bureau of Municipalities, Department of Internal Affairs, Harrisburg, had referred him to the Lower Merion Code as the best they had seen."

An instruction to Chinese soldiers reads: "If the rifle is broken use the butt, if the butt breaks use the fist, if the fist fails use the teeth." We would add, if the enemy pulls out your teeth, tell him he is no gentleman.

If you had a two-family house, you wouldn't let half of it stand vacant, bringing you in nothing. But did you ever think of renting your coal bin for the summer? The Heat Folks are in the market for empty coal bins, any size will do. Good rental gladly paid. If you buy your coal NOW, you can pocket the money it would cost us to store it until Fall. Prices are so much cheaper that you will realize an unusually large return on the space that would otherwise lay vacant. Three Traffic Tricks.

When driving in confusing traffic, when the use of the car's entire braking power may be needed in an emergency, pull up the emergency brake lever a notch or two. In this position it will be more within your reach. The first notch or two of the average emergency brake merely takes up the slack.

The practice of keeping the car in gear and using the engine to keep the car from coasting backwards when halted in traffic on an upgrade is particularly trying on the clutch, which, in slipping, has to act as brake for the time being. Wise drivers avoid the annoyance of a long wait on a hill with brakes and clutch depressed by climbing it a little slower when all indications point to the fact that traffic is scheduled for a halt. Just a matter of looking ahead, literally.

After shifting to high many drivers have a habit of racing the engine before letting in the clutch again. This serves to give the car a forward lurch and is often misconstrued as "pick-up." It makes excellent material for repairers. If you want to pick up quickly after reaching high let in the clutch, retard the spark, feed a lot of gas and advance the spark gradually as the car's speed increases. At the start it isn't as quick as the other method, but it will get you there quicker in the end, and with far less chance of stopping at a repair shop en route.

His Hoodoo Number.

The Cadger—"I ain't never 'ad a chance. No matter where I go or wot I works at, my unlucky number bobs up and does me in, some' ow."

The Householder—"What do you mean? What's your unlucky number?"

The Cadger—"Thirteen, lady. Twelve jurymen an' a judge."

OUR TOWN

PRESIDENT DUNNE'S MESSAGE

*Year's Accomplishments and Future Plans
Reviewed in Report to Civic Association*

TO THE DIRECTORS AND MEMBERS OF THE NARBERTH CIVIC ASSOCIATION:

When an organization such as the Narberth Civic Association has existed continuously for eleven years, it is evident that it forms an important part of our community life. It is true that during the years of its existence, there have been lapses of activity on the part of the association, but these have been consequent upon periods of disinterest and unresponsiveness on the part of the town.

The Association, during the past year, has gathered its forces to combat one of these periods of inactivity, and we feel that in the short time allotted to this undertaking, much has been accomplished toward making the organization the force it should be, particularly at a time like the present, when Narberth is experiencing a period of tremendous development.

In spite of the impression among many people that the Association has accomplished nothing of value for the Community during the past, a resume of facts will show that from among many smaller achievements, it is possible to point out several big ones that will always stand as a proof that, with the help of the community, there is no limit to what such an association can do.

From the period of 1914-1924 the Association has: Developed Narbrook Park from 14 acres of swamp-land into $600,000 revenue-paying property; helped free Lancaster and Montgomery pikes of toll; instituted and supervised "clean-up weeks" and published the newspaper "Our Town," acquiring publicity for the town by printing a series of articles on Narberth weekly in the paper, as well as stories featuring Narberth merchants.

New Street Lights for Haverford Avenue

During the past year, one of reaction, as I have said, to a lull in activities, the association has been particularly active in bringing about improvements in the town. In the middle of the year we urged upon Council the passage of a protective zoning ordinance which was finally passed and will have far-reaching effects for the good of the community. Then the idea of the new street lighting system for Haverford Avenue was conceived and the project pushed through to a successful conclusion by the association. The contract is being placed with the Electric Light Company by the Committee on Fire, Light and Water of Borough Council, for six street lights of attractive design, with underground wiring system, to be installed on Haverford Avenue between Narberth and Essex Avenues. The funds to defray the expenses of this work, amounting to $3,113.90, were raised by the Civic Association through the generous contributions of the merchants of the town, and of Borough Council, which has also agreed to pay the yearly maintenance fee. Narberth will therefore soon see upon its Main street a concrete evidence of the work of the association during the past year.

New Plans

So much for past achievements. It is now our purpose, not only to continue, but increase in value and number the practical demonstrations of service to the community which we have given during this year. We have made many plans for the future; some of them so near completion that they are now being estimated upon; some of them, it is true, so far distant that their mere outline is discernible. But with a little encouragement and help from this growing community, it will be possible to shape those outlines into something more tangible, and to progress to plans of even greater magnitude in the way of community betterment.

New Borough Signs

We are, at present, having designed by a well-known artist an attractive borough sign to be placed at the various approaches to Narberth; namely, the corners of Haverford, Price, Narberth, Essex and Wynnewood Avenues; and Montgomery Pike, Wynnewood and Rockland Avenues and Wynnewood Avenue and the Bridge. The signs will be distinctive in design and will be supported by a beautiful concrete post. We will endeavor to secure the support of Councils for this project to the extent of having the signs illuminated by night. These are something which will create a most favorable first impression upon visitors entering the borough, or in fact, upon all who pass our town in driving along the adjacent pikes. Already a few citizens have volunteered to defray the expenses of four of these signs.

Narberth Year Book

Another anticipated work of publicity and one which will prove of value, not only to new Narberth residents, but to everyone living here, is the compiling of a Narberth Year Book. As a source of development of community spirit and more complete appreciation of Narberth as a place in which to live, such a publication would prove invaluable. It would contain a fund of information valuable to all residents of Narberth, Wynnewood and Merion, telling briefly the history of Narberth, giving information about the churches, schools, doctors, club and recreational activities listing merchants with their addresses and phone numbers, and containing several pages of special information which every family would like to know about the home town they have selected, but have not a means of discovering. I would recommend as wide a distribution as possible of such a book, through the mediums of our merchants and real estate men, and possibly by advertising the booklet in the Philadelphia newspapers, that those who are interested in suburban life may have the opportunity of becoming acquainted with Narberth. The copy for this is largely completed and we expect the 1925 issue shortly to go to press.

Community Building

Although a recent bond issue was defeated at the polls, it is nevertheless apparent that one of Narberth's greatest needs at present is for a suitable community building, including an auditorium large enough to accommodate the large number of people interested in community activities. There is real talent to be found among the various organizations of Narberth, and it seems too bad that it should not be properly housed when it steps forth to amuse and entertain us. I think it is up to everyone to face this problem seriously and strive to develop with us and with other organizations a plan whereby a building can be obtained to meet the needs of all.

New Railroad Station

Unitel recently few people in Narberth realized that more persons use Narberth Station than any other station between West Philadelphia and Harrisburg. The sale of tickets at Narberth Station is enormous compared to that in many other towns which boast of a much better station. Let us approach the P. R. R. this year with a request for a new station and support the action by a petition signed by every family in Narberth. We may not have immediate results, but, at least, the seed will be planted which may ripen before too many years into the fruit of a beautiful new station on this so important branch of the Pennsylvania system.

Tunnel Under Essex Avenue

A tunnel under Essex Avenue would undoubtedly mean greater safety to the children from the South Side who travel to and from school every day. It would be a great convenience to motorists, reducing the dangers now existing in the Narberth Avenue approach to the bridge. Since this is distinctly a borough improvement, and of no definite value to the Railroad, it would seem that Councils would have to pay the bill, although the railroad might be willing to share in the expense. I recommend approaching Council with this matter.

Increased Membership

In the short period of several months, the paying membership of our association was increased from zero to one hundred and fifty-three members. This was achieved with just one direct appeal in writing to some four hundred families in the community. We feel that the time has now come to call upon those who have not as yet been approached, and those who overlooked our first appeal, to ask that they help us make the membership list reach 1000 before the close of 1925. Surely it is not only the duty, but the desire of every person enjoying his home life in such a community as ours, to be a member of the association which, above all others, should take the lead in civic improvement. This organization is ready and willing to take such lead; I think I have shown you in my talk tonight what great things have been accomplished by just a handful of officers and directors, backed by the knowledge that they had the moral and financial support of at least 153 of the residents of Narberth. I hope that you will see further with the same vision that I and other members of the board have, and glimpse the wonderful things which might be accomplished if the membership of our

NARBERTH BOYS ON Y. SWIMMING TEAM

Lower Merion Branch Swims in National Campaign.

The Junior Life-Saving Corps are making great headway at the Ardmore Y. M. C. A. The interest shown by the boys is greater than that of any other activity.

Several of the boys are going right through the tests without any difficulty while others who are a little less familiar with the modern methods used are passing them more slowly. The boys who are making good as life savers are Henry Banks, Richard Banks, Robert Ross, Jack Foster, Russell Gray, Tom Gallagher, Morris Abromson and Leon Napolitana.

When the boys have passed the tests they will be awarded the Y. M. C. A. life-saving emblem and become a permanent member of life-saving corps of the Ardmore Y. M. C. A. and will do volunteer work in the pool while groups are swimming. The boys who become members of the life-saving corps will be encouraged to continue on through the tests of master life savers and master swimmers and form the nucleus of the leader's club.

The old idea of pushing a person off a dock to make him swim is as out of date as traveling by stage-coach. Intricate land-drills are likewise "old stuff." The effective way to learn to swim is to take a grip on yourself, jack up your confidence and try out in the water itself the various strokes and kicks.

This method, according to Mr. Cranford, of the local Y. M. C. A., one of the organizations co-operating in promoting the "learn to swim" campaign, to be held in the Ardmore Y. M. C. A., from April 27 to May 4, is the one in use in the 600 odd association swimming pools here and abroad in which during the past 15 years, many thousands have learned to swim and thousands more have been given life-saving instruction.

"The association is interested in encouraging swimming both as a sport and as a safety measure," said Mr. Cranford. "But it is a fact that in every line of work and play a thing is much more fun if it is done well. It is also a fact that a small fault may seriously handicap an athlete, just as a loose cog may cripple a machine. A swimmer who doesn't breathe properly, for instance, is of little use to himself or anyone else when a real emergency arises.

"Because these things are so, the Y. M. C. A. in its swimming classes, its swimming contests at its summer camps, and in the community-wide "learn to swim campaigns" in which it co-operates with other organizations, stresses the importance not only of knowing how to swim but of knowing how to swim properly.

"It may surprise people to learn that, according to George Corsan, a leading swimming authority and Y. M. C. A. swimming instructor, no swimmer has ever drowned if he could swim correctly. One could die in the water of old age, or chill to death, or starve to death, or be killed by a sea animal or a fish, but drowning is really strangling or choking to death and is about as happy a way of leaving life as any other violent means. Drowning is really inharmonious breathing.

"There is as much danger in a faulty knowledge of swimming technique as there is in no knowledge at all. Perhaps more danger, because a non-swimmer seldom takes risks, whereas the poor swimmer, or one who has been improperly taught, very often does."

"Some swimming stars who train at Y. M. C. A.'s and who participate in Y. M. C. A. meets have gained national and international fame in aquatics. Notable among them is Robert Hosie, of the Brooklyn Central Y Swimming Club, who last year established a world's mark at intermediate distances from 500 yards to 1500 meters besides winning the national junior back-stroke championship. Harry Lewis, free-style indoor champion and called "one of the greatest speed swimmers ever developed in the East," is also a Y. M. C. A. man."

Mr. Cranford described the care required to keep the swimming pools in prime condition and the water pure. The raw water must be filtered and recirculated through quartz sand beds so that a volume equal to the entire contents of the pool shall be turned over every 24 hours. The sediment must be removed every morning from the bottom of the pool by a special apparatus, something like the nozzle of a vacuum cleaner. And the water must be sterilized either by dilution, which consists of pouring into the pool a stream of filtered sterilized water in sufficient volume to reduce the entire bacteria content of the pool below the danger point, or by chlorination, which is really the oxidation of the bacteria by chloride of lime, or a chlorinator.

Histrionically Speaking.

Those who are at all interested in dramatics will surely want to witness the forthcoming production of "The Colonel's Maid," a comedy in three acts, given by the Narberth Epworth League. It is a clever little play with enough love and action to make it exciting, but if you want to know more about it come to Elm Hall on May 1, at 8 P. M., and see for yourselves.

Mrs. Syle and her daughter, Nina, have returned from a visit to Washington, D. C.

organization should reach a number sufficient to assure the officers and directors of a yearly sum of money they could call upon to further the work which they have planned. There are three classes of memberships, voting members, $1.00 per year; contributing members, $2.00 per year, and sustaining members, $5.00 per year. I hope that the time will come when we can arrange for membership meetings every three months in addition to the directors' meetings. There is no reason why, with such a plan, members could not be induced to lend active support to the tasks confronting the officers and directors, and in establishing thus a working as well as a paying membership, there would be no limit to the results we could obtain.
